Methodological summary

Alongside the Consumer Price Index, the Index of Agricultural Products and the Index of Production Prices for Services, the Industrial Production Price Index (IPPI) is a key indicator for measuring inflation and for determining the GDP deflator in Romania.

The IPPI is based on a monthly survey and measures the average evolution of the prices of the industrial goods produced in Romania and directly sold by the producers, both on the domestic market and on the non-domestic market.

The IPPI is calculated as a weighted average, using the monthly evolution of the prices and the weights of the industrial products. The weights indicate the relative importance of each product in the total industrial production, using the turnover recorded in the year 2010 as variable.

Note: The data for October 2014 have been rectified, and the data for November 2014 are provisional.

You can find more information in the Prices Statistical Bulletin – Issue No. 11/2014.

Methodological information is available in the statistical metadatabase (<http://colectaredate.insse.ro/metadata/viewStatisticalResearch.htm?researchId=3010>).

International comparisons: The Eurostat press release containing comparative data at the level of the EU and the Member States, including Romania, on the Industrial Production Price Index for the domestic market (<http://epp.eurostat.ec.europa.eu/portal/page/portal/eurostat/home/>) comes out on Thursday, January 8, 2015.

The next press release will be issued on 03.02.2015.
